

San Francisco Ruby Conference

November 19-20, 2025

The San Francisco Ruby conference is organized in recognition of the new wave of Ruby startups and open source. It focuses on new and upcoming open source and tooling for Ruby, including AI for Ruby, as well as stories of new Ruby startups and companies that have grown big with Ruby and Rails.

Our goal is to secure the future of every company using Ruby by tapping into the new energy we see in the community today.

Dates: November 19-20, 2025

Planned attendance: 500 people

Topics:

- New open source and tooling, including Ruby+AI
- Scaling Ruby: in-depth technical talks
- Roundtable with CTOs of large Ruby companies
- Ruby startup demos

Let's do this together!
